

Blue Ridge

Square Footage:

Main Level: 3354 square feet

Upper Level: 2372 square feet

Total: 5726 square feet

Our Blue Ridge design celebrates your spectacular view. You've dreamed of capturing that view for a long time. Why not build a new log home that would impress the view if it could look back. From the loft your certain to see everything your view has to offer. The second floor laundry keeps the mess out of the action areas. From the great room, kitchen, dining room and from either bedroom for that matter, it's laid out so you get the most view for your investment. The round screened porch has an outside fireplace so you can get out into nature and relax without swatting. This design gives your view something to look at.

Options:

The log spiral staircase (a Caribou specialty) is standard to the plan. A straight staircase can be placed inside the house at a considerable money savings.
